The Yolo County Sheriff's Office, Animal Services Section is seeking the assistance of the public to help solve an extreme case of animal cruelty. On February 15, 2015 at approximately 2:00 p.m. Yolo County Animal Services responded to a call in Clarksburg near S River Road and Babel Slough for multiple decapitated animals found by a citizen. A reported bird watcher, advising they were in the area looking for a variety of hummingbird, said they happened upon a bag with feathers coming out it. After identifying the condition of several of the deceased birds they made a call for assistance and Animal Services responded.

Animal Services removed 12 animal carcasses comprised of chickens, rabbit and a turtle from the scene.
